GRENADIER OFFICERS GET ROYAL REBUKE

LONDON, July 25.—(CP)—Officers of the Grenadier Guards have been rebuked by Princess Elizabeth for bad manners.

All members of the Grenadier Guards Club, to which only officers of the regiment may belong, have received a circular letter urging them to be less boisterous at club dinners.

The Princess, as Colonel of the Regiment, attended the club's last dinner and was one of the speakers. Several of the other speech makers were subjected to cut calls and interruptions.

The letter reads:

"HRH, the Colonel, has mentioned that the interruptions of speeches this year showed a lack of manners.

"It is a great honor that HRH the Colonel attends dinner and it would be a disgrace to the club if she should have any doubts about attending in the future."

Present-Day Miracle Resulted From Prayer

"More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Rev. Alex Lopaton, missionary with the Christian Missionary Alliance, believes in the power of prayer. He attributes miraculous escape from death in a Japanese internment camp to prayers of people in the outside world.

The modern-day miracle occurred at five minutes to seven on one day in 1944 just five minutes before Japanese planned a wholesale massacre in the camp. American paratroopers dropped from the skies, combined operations with American tanks and Philippine guerrillas to hold 8,000 Japs in check while 2,145 internees were saved.

Only one American or internee was killed or wounded. Only two guerrillas lost their lives in the mass rescue.

Rev. Lopaton is visiting his sister, Mrs. Charles Grant, in Edmonton before leaving for the U.S. and returning to the Philippines.

Outside of the war years, Rev. Lopaton's evangelistic work has been concentrated on translating the gospel into the tongue of the Moros in the Philippines.

With assistance of English-speaking native workers, he has translated the Book of Luke into Agobio script and the Moro tongue. Working with pagan Subanos, he made their native translation of the Book of Mark.

He also translated the Book of Matthew into the language of a group of tribes in Sulia province but the manuscript was destroyed in the war and many months of labor were lost. A small nucleus of Christians in the Sulia Archipelago, Rev. Lopaton and his group of native workers have built up 300 churches with 6,000 converts. He hopes to return there shortly to continue translation work.

Speakers at the field day were Fred Strachan, supervisor for Lamont Agricultural Service Board; A. Harbrow, assistant director of agriculture at Vegreville; and William Leiby, supervisor of crop production for the provincial government.

Since the war, Rev. Lopaton has felt the world to be gospel-hungry. He feels people crave something real, definite and reassuring. He believes they will find it in the gospel.

Sharing Secret Would Curtail Bomb Output

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(UP)—Key legislators have been informed that unless the United States shares atomic secrets with Britain and Canada it may be forced to cut back its bomb production, it was reported today.

The committee was advised that failure to exchange atomic data freely with its wartime partners may cost the United States about half its yearly supply of uranium ore, the basic material from which the bomb is made. Such a development, L'Heureux reportedly said, would be certain to require a cut back in atomic bomb production.

The United States now has two major sources of uranium. These are the mines of the Great Bear Lake region in Canada and those of the Belgian Congo.

Allocation of the essential ore is determined by a joint U.S.-Canadian-British board with the participation of Belgium insofar as the Congo area is concerned.

In recent years, the United States has received virtually the entire output. But the congressional committee reportedly has been told there is danger of a drastic reduction if this country holds its own position on exchanging information.

Now the L'Heureux's are looking for a new home. Their former home has been sold and they have been given notice. They will be unable to move back even after health authorities have declared it safe.

Mr. L'Heureux, a barber in a downtown shop, said today the family still has no place in the city. They are appealing desperately for someone to offer them a place they can call "home."

Czech Leader Defies Rome

PRAGUE, July 25.—(AP)—Communist Premier Klement Zapotocky yesterday bluntly defied the Vatican and pledged allegiance of Czechoslovakia to Prime Minister Stalin of Russia.

In a speech, Zapotocky said that the Czech Republic was a choice between Moscow and Rome. He answered would be "Moscow-Socialism."

Zapotocky stated his defiance of the Vatican in the embittered state church fight at moving of 1,000 trade unionists at Trutnov, northern Bohemian town in the former Sudeten German region.

"We shall not allow any reactionary power, not even the Vatican, to interfere in our internal affairs," the premier said.

The Vatican came under renewed fire from the two big Communist newspapers, Rudé Právo and Lidova Fronta, party organs, and the official paper of the Communist youth organizations. Chief target was the recent Vatican order for recognition of Roman Catholic Communists.

Attendance Records Fall As Exhibition Concludes

DINNER GUEST GIVEN A LONGER INVITATION

The man who came to dinner helped himself to more than his host received.

But the guest got more than he bargained for—in the long run—18 months in jail.

John Reid, 12110 Fort road, appeared in police court Saturday charged with shopbreaking.

Court was told Reid spent the evening of July 16 at a party in Bard's coffee shop, 12202 Fort road. When everyone had gone home to bed the accused returned and raided the shop.

He was caught red-handed by Constables Frank Peck and Ted Palmer. He was found in possession of 32 packages of cigarettes stolen from the shop.

Two Brothers Arrested On Assault Charge

Two brothers have been arrested for the unprovoked assault of a city man last night.

A third man is still at large.

Victor and Arnold Martell were arrested by city police for the beating of William Edley, 7343 66 street, about 12:30 a.m. today.

Mr. Edley told police he and his wife had come home shortly after midnight, and were standing on the curb in front of their home while Mr. Edley cleaned mud off his shoes.

Three men approached and asked him what he was doing there. I live here he replied.

Thereupon the three men set upon him, ripping his coat during the attack.

Mr. Edley rushed to his kitchen and scratched the face of one of the men.

The trio was driven off.

Number of beer bottles was found in the area, and police arrested the two Martell brothers. Both men were positively identified by Mr. and Mrs. Edley, and one had scratched face.

229,106 See Show As $727,606 Bet

All-time attendance and pari-mutuel play records were established at Edmonton's 71st summer fair, concluded Saturday.

During the week, a total of 229,106 persons visited the fair to establish a new attendance record. This was 15,000 more than the 213,908 patrons who attended last year to establish the previous record.

Pari-mutuel play for the six days this year totalled $727,606 compared with $624,015 last year, an increase of $103,591 over last year's previous record.

Attendance Saturday fell 7,315 below the same day last year. Heavy showers during the afternoon were responsible for the decrease, according to fair officials.

Total attendance for the fair Saturday was 36,235, compared with 43,300 for the same day last year.

New record for pari-mutuel play was established Saturday at $161,702 for the same day last year.

Grandstand attendance at the closing performances of Cavaleade de Stars was well up to the average of the week with an overflow audience winning final show and display of fireworks.

Draw was under supervision of Vern Hayward, president, C. M. Cumming, president elect, and Robert Twiss, member in charge of ticket sales.

Proceeds from sale of the car will be used for welfare and community service work in the city.

SHOW PULLED DOWN

Gang of exhibition workers will start Monday cleaning up grounds, the fair being reported.

New Policy of Tories Victory for Moderates

LONDON, July 25.—(CP)—The new policy statement announced by the British Conservative party is regarded here as a major victory for the moderate and liberal-minded elements within the party.

In particular it is considered a personal triumph for Richard Butler, self-proclaimed opposition front benchman who aids for Saffron Walden constituency.

Butler, "editor-in-chief" of the new Conservative document, has spent the post-war years organizing discussion groups and policy committees in the preparation of the new electoral battle. In doing so he has had to contend with a feeling of extreme right-wing hostility to the Conservatives. He has been called a "leftist" by some of his own party.

Give the Conservatives enough rope and they will hang themselves was the theme song of this group.

Along with Anthony Eden, George Lloyd, Harold MacMillan and other prominent Conservatives, Butler has had to decide what to do about Winston Churchill. Churchill's critics as party leader were obvious but there was some doubt whether those critics reflected out one of his chief characteristics—a dominating desire to have his way in the end.

It is understood a definite decision was taken to continue under Churchill's banner and that there is a greater degree of understanding between Churchill and other

Dogs Raid Fireman's Mink Farm

Mink farmer J. D. Williams, 14234 108 avenue suffered $500 loss when six dogs raided mink farm and slaughtered 10 mink this week.

Burning his mink ranch at 11:02 118 avenue for the past 12 years as a hobby, this was his first major loss.

Captain of the city's No. 8 fire hall, Mr. Williams visits his mink farm at 5 a.m. each day and after his fire department duties at night.

Discovery of the mink slaughter was made Friday.

Dogs known as vicious marauders have been prowling around the neighbourhood around his mink farm for some time he said.

Thursday night they invaded his mink ranch and killed 10 breeding mink valued at $30 each.

These mink were missing, but the fact was without any major crime being reported.

POLICE INVESTIGATING

Dogs were traced and police are investigating.

In the meantime Mr. Williams said he has given up a dog until 2 a.m. this morning.

The dogs came back but I could not shoot at them, he said Saturday.

Colorful Thief Draws 5-Years Prison Term

TORONTO, July 25.—(CP)—Clayton Arnold Guhr, 36, former Vancouver restaurateur, was sentenced today to five years in penitentiary on 15 charges of housebreaking, forgery and uttering false documents. He also received a one-year concurrent sentence for auto theft.

Guhr said by police to be wanted by United States authorities on various charges, appeared undisturbed when sentence was passed. Pleas to both crown and defense counsel were believed respectful for what was considered a light sentence.

HAD CO-OPERATED

Crown attorney Henry Bull told the court he realized the serious nature of the charges, but said that Guhr had co-operated with police after his arrest.

Guhr, father of a two-year-old son, had previously pleaded guilty to all the charges, said to involve $20,000.

Arrested recently while trying to cash a $5,000 cheque, Guhr had been living in a fashionable Toronto residence and was highly-regarded by neighbors. Police said they found $20,000 worth of diamond rings, fur coats and other articles in his home.

Earlier, police officials testified that Guhr had jumped bail from the state prison at Salem, Ore., and was wanted by Seattle postal authorities on charges of using the mails to defraud.

Ont. Police Press Hunt for Escapee

Arrested Twice, Prisoner Leaves Unguarded Cell

GERALDTON, Ont., July 25.—(CP)—Police today searched this district, 175 miles northeast of Port Arthur, for James McGrath, 25, who escaped from jail here less than 24 hours after his arrest in connection with the armed robbery of a Matheon, Ont., farm family.

McGrath, from Ansonville, Ont., was arrested Friday while hitchhiking along the Heart-Geraldton highway. Police had been searching for him since he allegedly held a farm wife and her two sons at gun point in their home before escaping with a bundle of clothes taken from the house.

RIDE WITH POLICE

Police said McGrath made the mistake of hitching a ride with Provincial Constable J. A. McPherson, who recognized him. Once in the car, McGrath evidently became suspicious and jumped when the car slowed to take a corner. He sprinted into the bush but was caught after a short chase.

Exactly how he managed to escape from the cell is not known. But before leaving the building he entered the living quarters of Provincial Constable J. A. McPherson and took a blue suit coat, a blue dress shirt, a new pair of shoes, a diamond stickpin and a camera.

Police said he somehow made his way through a door connecting his cell with an uncompleted cell. In the new cell, plumbing pipes ran through the wall to the basement of the living quarters. McGrath is believed to have enlarged the hole around the pipes with a wrench today.

Freighter Rams Fishing Boat

BOSTON, July 25.—(AP)—An 8,000-ton freighter yesterday rammed and split in two a 40-foot fishing party boat in the inner Boston harbor killing a 42-year-old woman and injuring 19 other persons.

The victim was Mrs. Mary D. Giovannino of Waltham, Mass. She and the injured were aboard the smaller vessel.

The weather bureau said the weather was "perfect" with a light westerly wind.

A veteran coast guard officer said he "couldn't understand how the collision happened." The coast guard will start an investigation today.

SHOWS GO ON

Police Fail In Enforcement Of Blue Laws

BATTFISBURG, Miss., July 25.—(AP)—Police tried to enforce Sunday "blue laws" but the show went on and patrons got into the act.

Shuttling back and forth in a steady rain from their theatres to the police station, 24 managers, projectionists, ticket-sellers and takers were arrested, released on bond and arrested again for a total of 86 times. Three projectionists made the trip eight times.

Three policemen reported movie patrons peppered them with tomatoes.

At the Saenger theatre, a projectionist locked himself in a projection room in an effort to keep the show going. A policeman simply doffed his cap and used it to block the projection outlet. The screen went black. Patrons booed and yelled.

When police got an axe and a crowbar and prepared to break down the door, the theatre manager opened the room and the projectionist was taken off to jail.

Yesterday was the fifth consecutive Sunday police have tried to enforce Mississippi's blue laws which ban motion pictures after 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Fur Fashions Cause Hardships to Indians

BOURLAMAQUE, Que., July 25.—(CP)—Modern fur fashions are causing hardships among Indians of Canada's northland, Bishop R. J. Renson of the Moosehide Diocese of the Church of England said in an interview here.

Bishop Renson, who late last week returned from a 3,105-mile journey to the 30 mission posts in his diocese, said:

"Women don't have long furs anymore. The skins have to be scraped to paper thickness and long fur often has to be clipped to suit them. They are being worn as ornaments, not as protection from cold."

Fashion's dictates for short furs mean hungry Indian trappers, the 73-year-old bishop said.

But he didn't place all the blame on the women. "Men," he said, "once were proud of their fur-lined coats."

But for dominion government family allowances and old age pensions, he said, the Indians would undergo severe hardships this winter owing to "the vagaries of fashion" and fur farm competition.

However, he said, the trading posts of the Hudson's Bay Company which buy the furs from the Indians have undergone "wide modernization."

The company has ended flat rate barters for furs. Now buyers must go to Montreal to learn to grade furs at the point of purchase. As a result, the bishop said, the itinerant and black market dealer has been driven out of the north where he formerly got the cream of the fur crop.

The company's northern posts, he said, have gone modern. He said, and houses for factors and employees have most of the comforts of big city apartments in design.

East Dysentery Outbreak Peak Appears Over

MATTAWA, Ont., July 25.—(CP)—The spread of an epidemic of dysentery here appeared to have stopped today.

Dr. R. B. Marchildon, one of the town's three doctors, said no new cases were reported today and there is hope that the outbreak has passed its peak.

Two Ontario health department representatives were reported on their way here to investigate the causes of the epidemic which has claimed the lives of 12 young children and made upwards of 50 others ill. Four new cases were reported yesterday.

MRS. McGUIRE IN SECLUSION

Million Dollar Legacy Turns Out To Be Hoax

BELLEVILLE, Ont., July 25.—(UPI)—Mrs. Grace McGuire, the woman who said she had inherited $1,250,000 from an uncle, was believed today to have been the victim of a hoax.

But Mrs. McGuire was not available for comment. Her husband, Harold McGuire, said she was not at home and that he didn't know where she was.

She apparently had gone into seclusion to escape publicity provoked by her alleged inheritance and the humiliation of having to answer questions.

McGuire said his wife had received a letter from O. H. Mosier, prominent estate lawyer in Columbus, Mo. The letter said that an uncle had bequeathed $1,250,000 last week. Mosier denied having sent a letter to the McGuires, although he said he had correspondence with A. B. Collins of Belleville in connection with another person who died in Columbus.

Mosier suggested that somebody had played a cruel joke on Mrs. McGuire.

Before she went into seclusion, Mrs. McGuire said she had received a cheque for $200 with a letter supposedly from the Columbus

Many Bonds Were In Pioneer Stock

By Ken Liddell

Provincial News Editor

ATHABASCA, July 25.—J. P. Evans, the town's secretary-treasurer, had an interesting topic of conversation and an interesting story to spin around it.

He was talking about the people that the people years ago called "a bunch of bo-hunks."

It was his belief that Canada owed them a great deal, and for three reasons.

Whitecourt Mills Again Operating

WHITECOURT, July 25.—Whitecourt lumber planes are again in operation after a ten day lay-off due to district forest fires.

Fire crews from Hask Lake and from two fires west on the Athabasca have been reduced to mere patrols. The men released are once more in town and at work.

For the main part of the past few days only four or five men have made up the main element of the town's population.

Whitecourt Rains Cut Fire Hazard

WHITECOURT, July 25.—Local forestry officials are greatly relieved at the heavy rain falling lately. The Athabasca fire hazards are greatly reduced by the rain.

Along the Macleod River not so much has fallen and the river has not risen to any such extent as the Athabasca.

Much work remains to map the fire areas and estimate the damage done.

BRIDGE

Playing Low Wins This Game Hand

By William E. McKenney

A great many bridge and radio plays play a little bridge just for relaxation. The other day I met the charming Martha Wright who played bridge at the age of fifty with her grandmother.

Grandmother lived in Seattle where Martha Wright came from. A good part of "Grandma's" life had been devoted to trying to develop a singer or musician among her own children. When she and Martha finished playing bridge, they would move over to the piano. Grandmother would play and Martha would sing. Years later the show called "Up in Central Park" came to Seattle. Martha wanted to know if she had a voice. She knocked at the stage door and asked for the manager. "No openings," he said. "I am not looking for a job," replied Martha. "My grandmother and I want to know if I can sing," she sang one song, and she started with the show, ending up in New York.

Grandmother must have been a good bridge teacher as well as a good music teacher because Martha is a success at both.

In today's hand the opening lead of the five of hearts was led by East with the King. He returned the nine of hearts, and if Martha had carefully noted the jack, her contract would have been defeated. West would let her hold the trick and now when the diamond finesse was taken, East would win the trick with the king. He would still have a heart to return. Indeed, Martha played the hand to hold her losses to three hearts and a diamond by playing low on the heart return.

BIG SWEEP FOR SHEEP

DRUMHELLER, July 25.—Drumheller and district sheep breeders made a big clean sweep of the prizes at the Edmonton fair according to P. Rock, prominent livestock breeder.

Mr. Rock said that his flock of Hampshires, Suffolk and Southdowns had won 42 ribbons, six grand championships and three reserve championships. The Drumheller sheep had just come from more than a third of victories at the Calgary exhibition.

HORSE RACING

Westlock Industrial Exhibits

WESTLOCK, July 25.—Exhibits from the department of health and the department of economic affairs will be on display at the Westlock fair Aug. 9 and 10.

The latter's exhibit will occupy almost 100 square feet in the arena, and the former requires reservation of 120 square feet.

The executive of the fair association also has indicated that a number of industrial exhibits from class 'A' fair circuit will be shown.

Other details are fast being ironed out. Awarded is the twice daily exhibition of the rodeo, the imported rides for the kiddies, the national costume parade and the horse racing. Of much interest, too, will be the horse racing, with $200 in prizes, to be run each day of the fair.

FARM AID ASKED IN CASTOR AREA

CASTOR, July 25.—Although the recent storm with more than two inches of beneficial rainfall gave prospects of adequate feed, it is not expected that wheat yields will be more than five or six bushels per acre over the Castor area.

The council of the municipal district of Paintearth made application for assistance under prairie farm rehabilitation act, estimating application that more than one-third of the entire municipality would yield less than four bushels per acre, and the other two-thirds less than eight bushels of wheat per seeded acre.

Westlock's Telephones Increased

Improvements Made In Service Setup For Long Distance

WESTLOCK, July 25.—Almost complete revamping of the telephone exchange at Westlock has resulted in twice the number of circuits being provided residents following installation of new switchboards at the exchange.

Now required is the line crew to change over some of the street wiring to enable full use being made of the increased switchboard capacity. The crew is expected later this summer.

More connections The former total of some 200 connections on the old switchboard has been increased to about 350, and two more fall lines are now open to Edmonton, giving a total of five tolls to the city.

Not only did the mechanical end of the exchange improve but changes were made in location, too, with the switchboards being moved to the side room of the building and the former exchange site being made into a waiting room.

The oldest known system of examinations, which began in China and the former requires reservation of 120 square feet.
